Construction Update...

Construction is underway in various stages throughout our communities. According to our contractor, the work should be completed by late fall of this year. With the spring weather, the construction should be able to continue at an even faster pace. There have been some unexpected situations with the contractors and scheduling, so HHA would like to thank residents for realizing that things such as inspections, weather, and COVID has impacted their intended schedule of work and know that contractors are working as quickly and smoothly as possible. General notifications of work will be handed out as the work begins in your area. A general notice of work within your unit will specify a start date in your area. Because of the conditions listed previously, exact days of work cannot be predicted. The work is being completed in phases. Work is not on a unit by unit basis-meaning your unit will not be completed for all the work needed before that crew leaves. For example, crews for installing water heaters may be scheduled for a day, the next day the heating system may be installed, and the next day the wall repairs made, etc. There will be several different crews in and out of your unit.

Thank you again for your patience as HHA works toward improving units. If you have any questions please contact the HHA Office.

Residents may begin to see orange maintenance cones popping up around the communities. HHA Maintenance Staff will begin placing a orange cone outside the door of any unit that is requiring them to do work inside the unit. This is a courtesy gesture to let residents who are not at home at the time of entry that a HHA maintenance staff is inside their unit. If residents are not present at the time of entry when requested workorders, inspections or preventive maintenance are being performed, the orange cone will alert the resident that a HHA staff member is inside the unit if a resident returns to the unit during an entry by HHA. Also, when entry is made into a unit and no one is home at the time, HHA will leave a tag on your door letting you know that entry was made into your unit.
